

1.866.953.HOST
interservers
 Hosting Solutions That Work

350MB
 Standard Hosting $5.99

Home | About Us | Media Kit | Contact Us | Subscribe

small text | larger

May 02, 2006

Search

FAME honors scholars

This year the Fund for the Advancement of Minorities through Education honored 50 scholars during its 8th annual Leaders of the Millennium luncheon at the Duquesne Club Downtown.

FAME provides African-American students with partial annual scholarships to five area private schools, which by arrangement assume the remaining costs. The schools are Sewickley Academy, Shadyside Academy, St. Edmunds Academy, Winchester Thurston and The Ellis School.

FAME vision is to increase the number of African-Americans leaders in the greater Pittsburgh region by providing strong educational foundations and leadership development training to talented, promising young students.

In addition to featured remarks from past and current FAME scholars and board members, the ceremony was highlighted by the presentation of the Andrew Mathieson Award to Pittsburgh Project Founding Director Saleem Ghubril and by the keynote address from retired ALCOA CEO and former U.S. Secretary of the Treasury Paul O'Neill.

To the Courier Store!

- Home
- Metro
- International
- National
- Forum/Opinion
- Business
- Sports
- In The Spirit
- Lifestyle
- Entertainer
- Youth Connection
- Columnists
- Health
- Education
- Poets Corner
- Courier 411
- Classifieds
- Horoscope/Psychic
- Readers
- People Talk
- Politics
- Courier After Dark
- Cover To Cover

Join our Mailing List

Soul-Patrol.Co
SoulPowerSear
African-American
Music/Cultur
Data Base
Search On Over
500,000 DB Entr. soul/funk/blues/rc
artists/reviews/bio's/hit

---

SEARCH ME

soulpowersearch
 1999-2006 Davis Indus